11/04/2009

The below message is in reference to your Direct Select account with Appalachian Underwriters.

Monoline Homeowners with Travelers Suspended

Effective November 9th, we will no longer be able to bind Travelers' homeowner policies on a monoline basis. To be considered, all homeowner policies through Travelers must be accompanied by an automobile policy.

The Direct Select rater will still give out quotes for homeowners, whether you indicate auto or not, however they will be declined, at bind, if no request for automobile accompanies it. If Travelers homeowners was not available in your area previously, it will still not be available, even with an automobile submission.

All other carriers on the Direct Select platform will still allow monoline homeowners, subject to the existing guidelines.

Please contact Alexis Pedigo with any questions.

We hope for this to be a temporary suspension and will notify you if any changes are made.

Sincerely,

Personal Lines
